

Enterprise Risk

Mobius Underwriting Australasia is an authorised cover holder for Lloyd's of London. Enterprise Risk insurance is a product developed by leading syndicate Kiln 510.

Kiln is a leader in developing insurance solutions for intangible risks. These risks are receiving increased attention as understanding of their impact on businesses increases. Kiln launched the enterprise risk division within Syndicate 510 to provide specialist solutions for these risks. The team offers bespoke cover, long term support and a greater understanding of the intangible risks facing businesses today and in the future.

The enterprise risk team:

- Allows customers to design their own products
- Understands customers' current and future needs
- Provides long-term support and service to its customers

Enterprise risk provides insurance cover in four main areas:

Data assets and network security

Intellectual property

Reputational risk

Non damage business interruption (NDBI)

Solving today's business problems

Many of today's businesses and organisations possess technology, or specialist data upon which their continued success – even survival – may depend. It is often these areas of the business where traditional control, risk management and risk transfer methodologies are no longer as relevant.

While enterprise risk management approaches can identify risks and reduce their potential impact, residual risks remain and Kiln can provide solutions where these occur.
